

CASTING CALL

A Hong Kong – Chinese Martial Arts Gangster Comedy
Production: Beijing Film Studio & Hong Kong's Star Overseas

1940s – Shanghai, China. “The Axe Gang” assert their dominance over the glamorous city, ignoring the less well-off neighborhoods. A homeless man and his sidekick, who aspire to be gangsters, end up attracting attention to the previously outcasted Pig Sty Alley: a poor, rundown community. The hidden Kung Fu masters of Pig Sty Alley reveal themselves and fight to protect their home.

LANDLADY

Female – age 40-50
Chinese; Cantonese-speaking

- Character Traits:
 - Intimidating
 - Authoritative
 - Confident
 - Loud
 - Good-hearted
- Looking for Talents:
 - Heavier/Bigger in weight
 - Smoke habitually
 - Physically flexible
 - Death Glare
 - Fast Runner

TAILOR

Male – age 55-65
Chinese; Cantonese speaking

- Character Traits:
 - Very Feminine
 - Shy
 - Easily-embarrassed
 - Loyal
- Looking for Talents:
 - Gay, if not, open to act feminine
 - Physically Flexible
 - Muscular
 - High Jumper
 - Shorter than average

DONUT (Breakfast Man)

Male – age 35-45
Chinese; Mandarin-speaking but can understand Cantonese

- Character Traits:
 - Humble
 - Easy-going
- Looking for Talents:
 - From mainland China
 - Good at chopsticks
 - Javelin experience
 - Good Balance

When: Tuesday, November 21st, 2002

Thursday, November 23rd, 2002

Where: HK Star & Film. Building D, Room 249

Beijing Film Studio. APT- A, Room 14